The background of the image shows a stack of books and papers on a desk. The books are of various colors, including green, brown, and white. The papers are scattered around the books, some showing text. The overall scene is a study or library setting. A central text box with a black border contains the following text:

Welcome to
A Level English Literature

To begin, why study literature?

- Great examination results with students going on to study at university.
- Experienced and supportive teachers who have a passion for literature.
- Lots of opportunities to discuss, debate and new ideas, as well as ways of analysing both literature, and society.
- Group work to develop your ideas as well as individual work to express your own thoughts.
- Develop your essay writing, debate and communication skills.
- Trips out for further study opportunities.

Advertising and Marketing

Writing and

Sales

Law

Literature students demonstrate independent thought, close reading and deduction, the ability to analyse and also have excellent communication skills, in both speech and writing.

Consultancy

Teaching

These are all transferable skills...

and Design

Freelance writing

Performing arts

Foreign languages

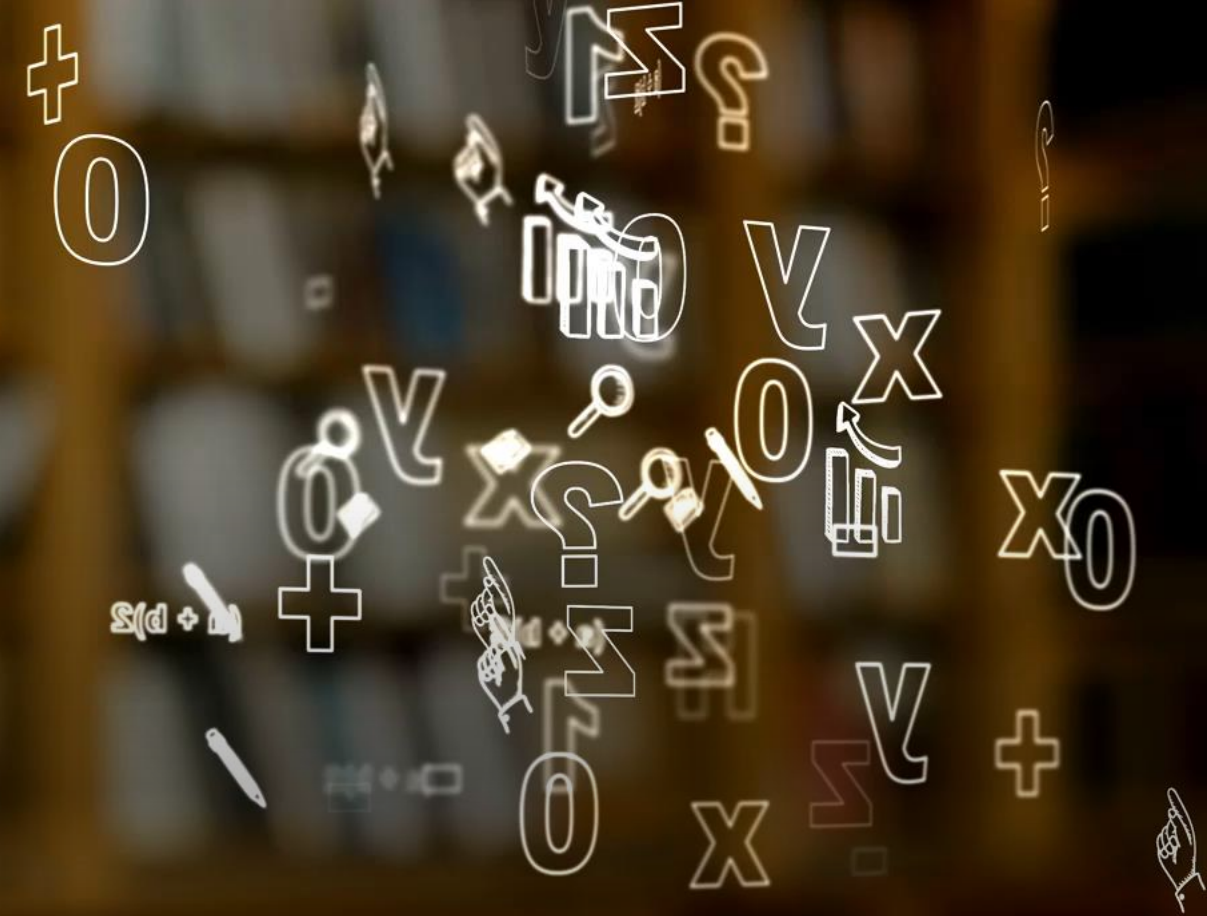

What skills do you need?

Your skills:

- A love of reading
- Independent drive
- Reflection and adaption
- Time keeping and deadline management

What will we study?

Course Content

- The poetry of William Blake
- Comparative poetry of Philip Larkin & Carol Ann Duffy
- A Streetcar Named Desire by Tennessee Williams
- Duchess of Malfi by John Webster
- Henry IV by William Shakespeare
- The Handmaid's Tale by Margaret Atwood
- Unseen Poetry and Prose of the 20th century

“English literature is diverse and enjoyable for anyone due to its many genres, this makes it a great subject as you can never get bored”

“English literature has benefited me as it continues to widen my knowledge and helps me to interpret and evaluate different opinions.”

“English literature has allowed me to access a wide range of skills and developed my understanding of literary genres. The skills I’ve obtained will assist me throughout the rest of my future.”

Thank you for your time.

If you have any questions, please speak to me or my colleagues on the mezzanine.

